LAWS TO CHECK SPREAD OF ISMS IN U. S. SOUGHT

Special Committee of Congressmen Makes Lengthy Report

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Legislation to protect the United States from foreign "propaganda" and revolutionary activity was recommended to congress today by a house committee which spent more than a year investigating "un-American activities."

In its unanimous report to the house, the committee headed by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) charged in effect that Soviet Russia has violated its pledge against harboring groups which advocate the overthrow of this government.

It reported that tons of Nazi propaganda have been smuggled into this country and complimented "twenty-odd million Americans of German birth or descent" for resisting efforts to bring them into the Nazi program.

Six Recommendations

These recommendations for legislation were made:

1. That all publicity, propaganda or public relations agents of foreign governments, foreign political parties or foreign commercial firms be required to register with the Secretary of State.

2. That the Secretary of State be empowered to shorten or end the stay in this country of a temporarily admitted foreigner if he disseminates propaganda or engages in "political" work.

3. That the United States negotiate treaties with other nations for the deportation of undesirable aliens to their native lands.

4. That it be made unlawful to advise soldiers, sailors or reserves to disobey their laws or regulations.

5. That United States attorneys be empowered to prosecute persons who refuse to testify before congressional committees.

6. That it be made unlawful to advocate changes in a manner that incites to the overthrow or destruction, by force and violence, of the government of the United States or any state.

Mexican Suspected

The committee reported it had "recently received evidence which justifies an inquiry into reports showing interference by a consul of the Mexican government assigned to San Bernardino, Cal., with the religious practices and religious freedom of some of our people."

"This evidence has been submitted to the State Department and assurances have been given that an immediate inquiry will be made," the committee said.

In the 1500-word, 24-page report, the investigators repeated some of the testimony obtained in hearings throughout the country, and presented separate summaries dealing with Nazism, Fascism, Communism, the "silver shirts" which they said were patterned after the storm troops of Germany—and other organizations.

Nazis Seek to Control

The committee said that Nazis used "all kinds of force and influence, short of force and violence," to "consolidate persons of German birth and descent" in this country "into one group, subject to dictation from abroad."

At "youth summer camps" in different localities, the report asserted, children were taught to recognize Chancellor Hitler of Germany as their leader.

But the report added that the committee's disclosures in open hearings have started a "disintegration of the movement."

Of Fascism in this country, it said:

"There have been isolated cases of activity by organizations which seemed to be guided by the Fascist principle, which the committee investigated and found had made no progress."

However, it reported there was evidence which would "justify an investigation" of alleged "Fascist activity by an Italian vice consul at Detroit."

Bill to Legalize Procedure Has Passed Ill. Legislature

A bill authorizing cities, villages, incorporated towns or park districts to construct and operate natatoriums or swimming pools, to charge for the use of the same and to provide for the cost thereof by issuing bonds, payable solely from the revenue derived from the operation of the pool, passed the Illinois house this week by a vote of 103 to 4, according to Associated Press advices from Springfield. Senator Robert Harper of Rock Island drafted the measure and was assisted by Senator George C. Dixon of this city.

The bill permits any city, village, incorporated town or park district of less than 500,000 population to construct and operate a swimming pool or natatorium, to acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation property necessary or appropriate for the purpose. Cities or villages are authorized to borrow money and as evidence thereof to issue bonds, payable solely from the revenue derived from the natatorium.

Such bonds may be issued in such amounts as may be necessary to provide sufficient funds to pay all the costs of the construction, including engineering, legal and other expenses, together with the interest on the bonds, to a date six months subsequent to the estimated date of completion.

Bonds issued under the provisions of the act shall be payable solely from the revenue derived from the natatorium or swimming pool and such bonds shall not in any event constitute an indebtedness of the city or village.

The bill, it is reported, has now come to Governor Horner for his signature.

German Firms Have Built Cheaper Car for Export Traffic

Berlin, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Reichs-lehrer Adolf Hitler has announced the construction of a German automobile with "the least imaginable fuel consumption."

Indication that the Reich may soon seek to export large numbers of low priced cars was given by both Hitler and Robert Altmers, president of the Automobile Industrialists' League.

Both men addressed the opening of the international automobile show.

"We are going to solve the problem of the cheap car because we must. Already one of our leading constructors has devised a car which will cost no more than a middle priced motorcycle, while the consumption of fuel will be the least imaginable."

Altmers underscored Hitler's announcement by declaring: "This people's car will naturally become the object of the first magnitude for exportation."

Master Will Hear Testimony Concerning Slot Machines

Judge Frank Sheehan, of Galena, sitting in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon, granted the motion of Attorney Mark Keller to submit testimony in the vending machine injunction action to Master-in-Chancery William Kehoe of Amborg. The court ruled that the testimony be submitted in 35 days instead of 100 days to avoid unnecessary delay in acting upon the temporary injunction now in effect and permitting the machines to operate in Lee county. Master-in-Chancery Kehoe will hear the testimony and make a final report to Judge Sheehan who will then hand down a final ruling on the injunction.

WAIVER OF ALL PENSION CLAIMS PRICE OF BONUS

Roosevelt Will Insist on Provision if Payment is Ordered

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Leaders in Congress said today that if veterans press for immediate payment of the $2,100,000,000 bonus, President Roosevelt plans to insist that they yield all claims to new pension benefits in the future.

The leaders, who declined to be quoted by name at present, said the President remarked even though such a bargain might not actually be binding in the future it would constitute at least a "moral" deterrent to new demands.

It was emphasized that the President would not willingly see Congress pass a bonus bill, even under that agreement. Opinion in Congress as to what will happen to the bonus bills is still divided. Bonus advocates predict victory; some administration leaders say the drive will be beaten, while others foresee a possible compromise.

See Largest Expenditures

One leader said that the President, in adopting his attitude on pensions, has an eye on one of the largest potential expenditures in the future, involving more than $100,000,000,000 a year.

At present, men who served in the World War have no outright pensions as veterans, though the President has estimated that in the fiscal year 1935, $34,679,524 must be spent for pensions to survivors of dead World War veterans, $5,123,262 as compensation to survivors.

$188,499,149 for disability compensation to veterans, $12,285,555 for disability pensions and $2,951,900 as retired pay to emergency officers.

These sums total $243,598,380. As time goes on, they will increase. But they do not include a plain pension granted to a man for the pure and simple reason that he served in the World War.

The President, a leader reported, is concerned about the annual expenditure that would be involved in World War pensions because of what it now costs to maintain Spanish-American and Civil War veterans and their dependents and survivors.

RIVER RAISING: FLOOD THREATS FROM UP-STREAM

Feeder Streams Reported Full of Water as Rock River Swells

Rock River was starting on its annual spring rampage today and feeder streams north of Dixon promised a high stage of water probably within the next few days. Records at the I. N. U. offices here today showed a rise of more than a foot at the Ottawa avenue hydro plant overnight.

The Pecatonica river at Freeport had risen five feet in less than 24 hours. The stage increased almost three feet from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 6 o'clock this morning and reports from Freeport noon indicated a two foot rise since early this morning. The high stage of water in the Pecatonica river was said to be due to a backing up of water in Rock river.

The gauge at Oregon was reported to be showing a continued rise which promised a much higher stage at Dixon. Some of the ice between the two bridges here passed out during last evening but the river remained solidly frozed over above the dam. The mild weather of this week and last night's rain threaten a higher stage of water here, probably within the next few days, than at any time during the past few years. Creeks are reported to be full of water and heavy ice on the upper Rock river was believed to forecast an unusual condition this spring.

A report from the I. N. U. offices at noon stated that the water below the dam here had risen four feet since early yesterday afternoon and with no prospect of a drop from the reports from tributaries north of Dixon.

Green river in the vicinity of Amboy was reported leaving its banks this afternoon. The ice apparently had passed out and at a late hour this afternoon the stream was continuing to rise. Some of the low lands south of Amboy and west of state highway route 2 was covered with water. In other places the river was bank full and there was every indication that a continued rise would result in the overflowing a vast acreage, although no immediate danger was anticipated.

'NEWSBOY,' HELD IN WEST, FORMER ILLINOIS MAYOR

Apparent Amnesia Victim Once Leader in Springfield

Los Angeles, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A gray bearded, 68-year-old "newsboy" sat in the city jail today and contemplated police reports that he is John S. Schnepf, former mayor of Springfield, Ill., and wanted there on embezzlement and forgery charges.

"I have been trying for two years," he said, "to find out who I am. I took the name of Mason because I didn't know what my real name was."

"If I am the former mayor of Springfield, I certainly will be glad to know it. I will gladly go back there, for I am sure that I never wronged anyone in my life."

"I do not recall that I ever had a wife, or children, or that I ever was in political office. I will be glad if someone will straighten things out for me."

Identified by Dozen

He was taken in custody yesterday. A dozen former residents of Springfield here were advised. They were arranging for his return.

Amnesia Victim Claim

The "news" contends he is an amnesia victim. He said he could remember nothing prior to two years ago, when he was in a hospital at Houston, Tex., recovering from an operation.

In his room here police found a letter dated Feb. 9 and addressed to Clyde Schnepf of Springfield, giving him power of attorney to publish two novel manuscripts titled "A Madman's Romance" and "She Covered Him," found with the letter.

The letter began: "Dear boy: I

SON OF FEDERAL JUDGE KILLED TO FOIL PLOT, CLAIM

Authorship of Extortion Note in Tulsa Murder Case Admitted

Pawnee, Okla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—An admission that John F. Gorrell, Jr., wrote an extortion note to H. F. Wilcox, wealthy Tulsa oil man, threatening death to one of his children unless he paid $20,000, was made by the state today in the murder trial of 19-year-old Phil Kenamer for the slaying of Gorrell, 23.

The startling action followed brief testimony by Federal Judge Franklin E. Kenamer, father of the defendant, that "in my opinion" the handwriting was not his son's.

W. F. Gilmer, Jr., of the prosecution, interrupted testimony of J. C. Shearman, Wichita, Kas., handwriting expert, to say:

Admits Authorship

"If you are trying to show that Gorrell wrote that note, we'll save you time and trouble. We admit it."

"In view of this unqualified admission, we see no need of continuing this testimony," said A. Flint Moss, chief of the defense, and Shearman stepped down.

Shearman, who said he was a student of Albert S. Osborne, a handwriting witness in the Hauptmann trial, said before court opened he would testify Gorrell wrote the note, which the defense contends led Kenamer to kill Gorrell, a dental student.

The defense contended young Kenamer was distracted because of the threat implied against pretty 19-year-old Virginia Wilcox, a daughter of the oil man, for whom he bore an unrequited adoration.

May Be Recalled

The brief testimony of the gray-haired father of the defendant came as a surprise, as the defense had announced the judge would be asked to tell "queer actions" of his son. It was expected the judge would be called back to the stand later in the hearing to bolster the insanity plea for the youth.

Kenamer's defense counsel began testimony today to save him from the electric chair by attempting to show Gorrell wrote the note.

The state, which rested yesterday after less than two days of testimony, asserts the 19-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kenamer shot the 23-year-old dental student in Tulsa last Thanksgiving night when he refused to take part in the alleged plot against the Wilcox family. Kenamer admits the slaying but says he did it in self-defense to thwart the plot which allegedly involved the kidnapping of 19-year-old Virginia Wilcox, the oil man's pretty daughter, for whom Kenamer professed great affection.

New Society Will Guard Dixon Homes in Wee-Small Hours

With the apparent inactivity of the famous "Holy Rollers" it is authoritatively stated that Paul James, "Junior Drag-Em-In" of that organization, is the instigator of a new society to be known as the "Midnight Minute Peremen," the purpose of which shall be the detection of suspicious smoke at any time after midnight. Requirements for keeping late hours at least one "eagle eye" ability to run a hundred yards in 12 seconds or better, and a yell of sufficient strength to arouse the dead at a distance of 1000 feet. Further particulars can be obtained from the "Junior Drag-Em-In" or from members of the Dixon fire department.

Galena Woman Has Been Absolved of Part in Hold-Ups

Edwardsville, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Lorraine Marie Loppnow of Galena, Ill., who had been held on the charge she was the blonde woman who participated in a Colma, Ill., gasoline station hold-up, was released yesterday.

State's Attorney Lester Geep said identification was not strong enough to warrant a trial. He also released John E. Lindsey, who had been arrested with Mrs. Loppnow at Memphis, Tenn., several weeks ago.

The woman who participated in the holdup rescued two men companions who had been seized in the attempt. She drove up, fired a shotgun and, in the excitement, the two captives escaped with her.

Bakery Chain Chief on Trial in Chicago Mystery Murder

BRUNO DEFENSE WITNESSES MAY BE ARRESTED

Indictments For Perjury May Be Given

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., Hunterdon county prosecutor, said yesterday alleged evidence of perjury by at least four defense witnesses in the Hauptmann murder trial probably would be presented to the grand jury next week.

The action, he explained, would depend upon his decision to take a three-week vacation in Florida with his family. If the trip is taken next week, the grand jury will not be called back to consider perjury indictments until Hauck's return.

Testimony to contradict that of at least four defense witnesses was presented by the state. Among such defense witnesses, Hauck said, were Mrs. Bertha Hoff of Corona, L. I.; Louis Kiss, New York silk painter; Elvert Carlstrom, young New York carpenter, and Benjamin Heier, restaurant cashier of Brooklyn.

Tavern Keeper Held For Harboring Vol Davis When He Fleed

Chicago, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Matthew Gleason, Aurora tavern keeper, charged with harboring Volney Davis, Bremer kidnapping suspect, remained in custody of Federal officers today in the absence of $3,000 bond.

Gleason's secret arrest Thursday was revealed when he was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Edwin Walker on charges of harboring Davis after he escaped from Federal agents in Yorkville as he was being brought to Chicago from Kansas City.

I knew Davis and he came to my house in Aurora," Gleason said. "He said the law was after him, but I didn't know he was wanted by the Federal or for a kidnapping case."

Gleason's case was set for hearing in Feb. 21, and he was placed under $3,000 bond which has not been furnished. Davis is still a fugitive.

TALE PUBLISHED IN NEW YORK IS WITHOUT TRUTH

Hauptmann to be Taken to Death House Sometime Tomorrow

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Sheriff John H. Curtiss announced today that Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted Lindbergh kidnap-murderer, would be removed from the Hunterdon county jail to the death house in the state prison sometime tomorrow.

"We are going to take him down tomorrow. That's definite."

Pressed by newsmen for some definite information as to what time Hauptmann would start on the twenty-odd mile journey to the death house, he said:

"It won't be before daylight," adding with a chuckle, "you boys can go home and get a good night's sleep tonight."

The sheriff said he, four or five deputies and an unspecified number of state police would accompany the manacled prisoner on the trip.

Expect Public Help

Hauptmann, awaiting his removal, placed in the public today his hope of a successful appeal against his conviction.

"I haven't a dollar," the condemned man told his counsel, "and I must depend on the public."

In his only interview during four months in the Hunterdon county jail, the Bronx carpenter was asked late yesterday whether he could not possibly name persons connected with the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

"As God is my Judge," was the reply. "I cannot confess, for there is nothing to confess."

"If I had any confession to make I would have made it months ago and saved my wife and child all this worry."

"I told everything, on my word of honor. That is, I mean, I have not tried to cover up anybody."

Paper Claims Alibi

But the New York Daily News said in a copyright article today that not only were two men involved in the $50,000 ransom fraud—Hauptmann was identified as the actual recipient—but that police knew the identity of the second and sought to trap him.

This man, the News said, was the one who hid his face with a handkerchief and peered into Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's automobile while the father of the slain baby awaited his ransom emissary, Dr. John F. (Jafie) Condon. The mystery man moved on and dropped his handkerchief, apparently as a signal to the ransom collector.

Initial efforts to reach District Attorney Foley of the Bronx and other officers for confirmation of the article were fruitless.

At New York headquarters, however, the Lindbergh file, filling four large cabinets, was closed and stored away in the basement.

Protests Innocent

Hauptmann, volubly protesting his innocence, told newspapermen: "If I have to go to the electric chair, I go like a man."

Today was his last in the county jail. From there he goes to the state prison at Trenton where a cell in the death house has been prepared for him.

To his attorneys he delegated the task of obtaining funds for an appeal. They questioned him in vain, hoping to learn of friends or fraternal organizations which might help, and then expressed hope the public would aid.

Hauptmann said two $2 bills were all the money he had had since his arrest. They came from an unidentified contributor.

The prisoner said he turned them over to his wife, Anna, "because she needed them."

Cost About $25,000

Edward J. Reilly, chief of defense counsel, estimated the cost of carrying the fight through higher courts at $25,000.

In a death conviction, however, the defense is permitted to ask the court to have the county pay legal costs, including preparation of the record. Egbert Rosencrans, assistant.

$12,500,000 Mentioned as Annual Cost of Old Age Pensions by Gov. Horner to His Temporary Successor

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Perhaps it has no significance, but $12,500,000 is the first figure quoted as the annual cost of old age pensions to the state.

Governor Horner told it to a Boy Scout.

When 14-year-old Robert Walker acted as chief executive for an hour yesterday Horner said to his temporary successor:

The first problem you had better take up is that of obtaining $36,000,000 for relief purposes and $12,500,000 for pensions."

The governor and the legislature are struggling with the problem of raising $3,000,000 a month for relief, but the old age pension and unemployment insurance bills have not been considered yet.

"I hope you will actually be governor of Illinois some day," Horner told young Walker.

Boy Scouts filed all state Sangamon county and Springfield offices for an hour yesterday afternoon.

Two Boy Scouts acted as chief justice and marshal of the Illinois Supreme Court and were allowed in the conference room while the justices were in session. Court attaches said this was the first time an outsider ever sat with the court.

Theft of Federal Judge's Auto is Among Crimes Confessed by Sixteen-Year-Old Springfield, Ill. Youth

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—City police said that Frank Anuci, 16-year-old Springfield youth, confessed early today to participation in a number of central Illinois crimes during recent months. The confession was made to Detectives Horace Palmer, Charles Early, and Charles Walker, they said.

The youth, authorities said, stated he was a member of a group of young hoodlums who held up filling stations in Jacksonville, Decatur, Litchfield and Mason City.

The theft of Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie's automobile two weeks ago was among the acts police quoted Anuci as admitting. The car was recovered, bearing several bullet holes, several days later.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

THE FOLDING BATHTUB
With all due respect to the "City Dads" I make these observations. I suspect, along with many other average minded citizens, that the reviving of the swimming pool plans for the city is merely campaign fodder.

The following facts give me the willies and are so out of line with a sensible approach on the subject they make me shudder.

I The city council considers $60,000 a moderate sum for a portable "bathtub."

II They consider giving this sum to an outside firm, which is located in the city of Chicago and of course pays its taxes there.

III The location is out of the city limits and on a bare prairie. Why?

I may be a young man and have young ideas but in my mind they are not as flighty as those listed above.

Allow me to present my opinions on the subject.

I Location. There are several ideal places for the pool in Dixon. How about this—

Assessor plot No. 5 is at the eastern edge of the city. It is bounded by Ravine Ave. on the west, Route 2 on the north and the city limit line on the east and south. It was at one time a stone quarry and has beautiful park-like surroundings.

II The work would all be done by local contractors, employing local labor and using local materials. The contracts would not all be given to one contractor, they would be split up.

III The cost could be cut from one-half to one-third of what the out of towners want for their questionable substitution for a decent swimming pool.

A pool of this type would be the pride of Dixon. It would be there to stay and as to the financial success of the proposition, ask the city of Rochelle if their pool of this type did not only pay for itself and all overhead expenses but has shown a profit as well.

It has been said that I am running for the office of mayor of Dixon for the mere purpose of splitting votes that would go to some other opponent.

Again I wish to express my sincerity and state that I am for the city of Dixon and its people, as long as I can be of any service to them.

Allen D. Taylor.

Federal Agents at Work to End Blasts
in Mining Sectors

Harrisburg, Ill., Feb. 15—(AP)—The Federal government moved swiftly today to bring an end to Illinois bitter factional mine union warfare and its reign of terrorism.

Cooperating directly with the Illinois Attorney General's office, Department of Justice operatives within the last 24 hours have seized for questioning eight men allegedly connected directly with or in possession of information concerning the recent series of bombings and other outrages in Illinois, arrested at least one man and have prepared warrants for the arrest of a number of others, it was learned today.

The action today, only the start in the statewide drive to stamp out the mine war terrorism, culminated hours of questioning of suspects, witnesses and victims with the use of a lie detector on the suspects.

Paroled Convict is Questioned in Fatal
Raid at Bloomington

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 15—(AP)—Kelch Irwin, 32-year-old paroled convict, was arrested today for questioning in the murder during a raid at Bloomington, Ill., last January 28 of Deputy Sheriff A. L. Vonsaar.

Detective Joseph Semith quoted Irwin as admitting he was present in the Bloomington home raided by Vonsaar and other officers, but said he fled without firing a shot before the deputy sheriff was killed.

According to Semith, Irwin said he had just dressed after arising from bed, when the officers entered the home. In their first hasty search, they overlooked his bedroom, enabling him to flee through a back door before the shooting started, Irwin told the officer.

Conviction of Rockford
Matricide is Upheld

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court, handing today 31 opinions, today upheld the conviction of Mrs. May Hanson for the murder of her estranged husband at Rockford.

Mrs. Hanson was sentenced to 14 years in the Dwight reformatory following the death of her husband, Earl, in his burning automobile on Aug. 13, 1933. The state contended Mrs. Hanson threw gasoline and a lighted match at him, causing fatal burns.

The court held untenable the defense theory that the flames were caused by the backfire of the car, pointing out that no one heard an explosion.

Hauptmann, pale and restless, paced his brightly lighted cell while he talked. The trial had left him worn out, he said, but he felt "all right."

"Absolutely, I am innocent," he said. "Otherwise I would have said so in the beginning."

HOOVER DENIES STORY

Washington, Feb. 15—(AP)—Statements that federal officers have evidence that Bruno Richard Hauptmann had an accomplice in the Lindbergh kidnaping were termed false today by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the division of investigation of the Department of Justice.

The Lindbergh kidnap-murder case was said to be closed so far as the special agents of the Department of Justice are concerned. It was asserted that Hauptmann is guilty and no other suspect is involved.

"It would be reprehensible, even bordering on criminal, to conceal any evidence that would shed light on the guilt or innocence of Hauptmann and the division of investigation has no other evidence in this case," Hoover said.

He made this statement in commenting on published reports that authorities, including the Department of Justice, knew of an accomplice and expected to arrest him.

Dorothy Wachtel to Be Bride Tonight

This evening a popular young Dixon couple are to be married, Miss Dorothy Wachtel and 'Shires' Lloyd Miller, he of basketball fame. The quiet wedding will take place at 8 o'clock at the parsonage to the Immanuel Lutheran church, with the pastor Rev. A. G. Suechting officiating at the ceremony. Hosts of friends unite in extending best wishes to them in advance.

Popular Couple
To Be Married

Never has a bride-to-be been more feted than Miss Ingaletta Robertson, who has received many prenuptial courtesies from many friends. Her fiancé, Edmund Gehant, we are informed, has also been the recipient of many courtesies at the hands of his friends, many stag parties being held in his honor. But it seems that neither bride nor groom-to-be, would divulge the day or time of their wedding, but it is strongly suspected it is today or tomorrow, the time and place we wait not. But anyway, we all wish this popular young couple, both of whom have been employees of the I. N. U. Co. of offices, every happiness, and we hope to publish more of the marriage soon.

TO AN OLD MELODEON

An attic corner grudges crowd space.
Yet through the dust and cobwebs of the years
I see you newly treasured—
Love appears—
Basqued muslin gown—smoothed hair—her youthful grace
Subdued to proper mode. The candle glow
With you, enhanced her comeliness,
I know
Adored Cecilia, saintly. Heaven armed
As cords that timed the stately minuet.
Virginia reel or lancers' giddy fun; fingers let True to the little strains white fingers let Me glimpse a paradise, Melodeon! You are my yesterday—and myrrh—and music trampling in the light lanced dusk—
The wealth of love—and songs and dancing done.

Lecture by Miss Walls Is Enjoyed

The second of a series of lectures on Child Development and Parent Education for Home Bureau members was given at the Nurses Home on the evening of Feb. 8th, at 7:30 with a large attendance, and the student nurses as guests.

Miss Walls, specialist, in giving her subject, "Home Equipment for Children," introduced many ways of making a home more livable for the little folk. Plans were outlined for teaching a child to become more self-reliant by the use of small equipment in their own room—low mirrors, low electric light buttons and hooks for their individual towels, etc., and also in the out door playground equipment.

Miss Walls told of the $30.000 model home, ideally built for small children in Indiana. Very inexpensive furnishings, may be made at home by the use of packing boxes and good paint.

Quoting from the White House Child Welfare conference, "For every child understanding and the guiding of a precious child his perfect right." Miss Walls explained the relationship between cause and effect, in children's daily happenings. The result is a greater proportion of successes than failures, when a child learns to do things right in the very early years.

Miss Walls outlined many ways in which a child's home may contribute to the social, physical, mental and emotional development by helping a child to learn to help himself.

The next interesting lesson will be "Habit Formation."

Happy Gathering Honored Two Ladies Last Evening

A large company of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gonnerman and daughters, Mrs. Gladys Senneff and Miss Dorothy Gonnerman, and Betty Senneff and held a delightful birthday surprise honoring Mrs. Gonnerman. There were forty-one in the group and all came prepared for the delicious picnic dinner which was served after the surprise of the hostess had somewhat subsided. The long table was graced at either end with a delicious birthday cake, both being decorated in green and pink and various other lovely decorations for the table mysteriously made their appearance. Five other cakes were also produced for the feast, which everyone heartily enjoyed. Later Mrs. Gonnerman was given a handkerchief shower and she received many lovely ones, accompanied by good wishes.

Shower Bride-to-Be

Last evening's surprise developed into a double affair for Miss Rosanna Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Curran, who is soon to be married to Maurice Kilday was honored with a kitchen shower and she received many useful and ornamental gifts for the home-to-be, with the best wishes of the merry company.

After the dinner and the "showers," cards proved to be the popular diversion for the remainder of the evening, bridge and pinocle and five hundred being enjoyed. At a late hour the friends departed for their homes after a delightful evening, wishing the young bride-to-be happiness in the future, and wishing Mrs. Gonnerman many such happy birthdays in the years to come.

Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fry, Verne Fry and Miss Mabel Matzrich of Rock Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Beckingham of Sterling; and Maurice Kilday of Polo.

Happy Evening at Wm. Lang Home

Mrs. Wm. Lang entertained her bridge club and their husbands on Wednesday night at the Lang home. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sproul were guests. There were guests for five tables of bridge. Mrs. Lester Wareham won the first favor for the ladies; Mrs. Robert Reis won the second favor. Ralph LeFevre won the first favor for the gentlemen and George Knouse won the second favor.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Decorations in the Valentine colors and motif were most attractive and appropriate.

Paul-Webb Wedding Celebrated

Last evening at 8 o'clock Miss Beulah Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Paul of Polo, and Willard Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Webb of Polo, were united in marriage in Dixon at the parsonage to the Bethel Evangelical church, with the pastor, Rev. H. W. Lambert officiating at the ceremony which was witnessed by Mrs. Lambert, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Dennis of Polo, the latter being a sister of the bride. The bride was prettily attired in blue crepe with accessories to match. The matron of honor wore a pretty pastel colored frock.

The bride is a graduate of the Polo high school of the year '32 and she also attended the State Teachers College at DeKalb. She has been teaching school for the past two years. The bridegroom who is a prosperous young farmer is a graduate of the Polo high school of the class of '28. They are both popular and highly esteemed young people who have many friends who will join in wishing them every happiness.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Webb will return to make their home after March 1st on the Dr. E. S. Thomas farm, southwest of Polo.

Miss Miller Entertains Class with Valentine Party

The third grade class of the Congregational Sunday school, were delightfully entertained last evening with a Valentine party at the home of their teacher, Miss Martha Miller. Decorations for Valentine's day were very pretty. There were twelve present. An amateur contest was held, and Miss Betsy Branson and DeLora Fox tied as vocal soloists, while Miss Elsie Wistmas was voted a best pianist, and Miss Geraldine Maronde won first place in pinning an arrow on the Valentine heart. A Valentine box contest was held and this caused much merriment.

An election of officers for the ensuing year was held as follows: President: Charles Yeager. Vice Pres. Betty Louis Miller. Sec. and Treas. Betsy Branson. Delicious refreshments were served and completed the pleasure of all present.

Martindale-Appel Wedding Thursday

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday at high noon at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church when Clarence W. Appel and Miss Maxine G. Martindale, both from Thompson, Ill., were united in marriage with Rev. L. W. Walter officiating at the ceremony. The attendants who accompanied the bride and bridegroom to Dixon, were Donald Imel as best man, and Miss Vernie Martindale, a cousin of the bride, as maid of honor.

Date of Knights Templar Ball Set For February 22nd

Invitations are being sent out for the annual Knights Templar ball and card party which is to be held at the Dixon Masonic Temple on Washington's Birthday, Friday evening, February 22nd. This ball is always the most beautiful dancing party held in this part of the state because of the Knights Templar in full uniform with their ladies in their beautiful evening gowns, together with the patriotic decorations which the committee endeavors to arrange for their guests. This year arrangements have been made with one of the finest Rockford orchestras to furnish the music, and the setting for the musicians is to be a complete surprise. Robert V. Reed has planned the architectural scheme for the arrangement of the stage, which is to be a patriotic setting, and he will direct the workmen who will build the structure. The reputation Mr. Reed has made for himself already assures the guests of an entirely new and beautiful setting for the musicians. There are a number of other surprises in store for the guests during the evening. This party is to be an invitation affair and already a great many additional requests for invitations are being received by the committee.

A special group of the drill team are practicing an exhibition drill which will precede the grand march that is to be led by the commander, Sir Knight, C. J. McLean and his wife, followed by the officers in the order of their rank and the Sir Knights in uniform with their ladies and they in turn by the guests. This grand march is always an interesting feature of the evening's entertainment, to all who attend. This year, souvenir dance programs will be given to those who participate in the grand march, which is to take place at 9:15 P. M.

Those who prefer to enjoy the balance of the evening in playing cards will be delighted to find a beautiful array of prizes on exhibition, and those who are fortunate enough to win a prize will be well repaid for their attendance. Refreshments will be served during the evening and arrangements are being made to entertain 250 couples. There will be many out-of-town visitors for Sir Knights from Rockford, Freeport, Chicago, Sterling, and all surrounding Commanderies have asked for invitations to this beautiful party.

This year it was necessary to compile a new mailing list and it is hoped that none who wish to attend will be overlooked. If this should occur a request addressed to the commander, C. J. McLean, Dixon, will receive prompt attention.

Roast Biff on the Biffer

Jack Dempsey, who used to hand out those swell knockout biffs in the ring, handed out roast "biff" to hungry scribes who attended the party he threw for the press previous to the formal opening of his new restaurant across from Madison Square Garden, New York. Here are the Mauler and Mrs. Dempsey as they carved a side of beef.

Shrine Patrol Team Sponsored Dancing Party Last Evening

A number of young people, about 125 couples, who were not to be deterred by the inclement weather of last evening, thoroughly enjoyed one of the finest dancing parties that have been held in Dixon this year. This was the St. Valentine's party given by the Shrine patrol team at the Dixon Masonic Temple. Paul Hubbell's recording orchestra was the principal drawing attraction for they have been playing in Sterling every week this winter and have a very large following among the young people there and many of the Dixon younger set have been attending the parties there.

The hall was beautifully decorated with hearts everywhere but the dancers were more interested in the excellent music and each number played was repeatedly encored. The party was a very decided success and after it was over the eating places were packed to the doors. The Patrol will probably plan for another such dance before the season is over.

Miss James Honoree at Valentine-Bridge

Mrs. Clinton Ives entertained at a pretty Valentine bridge party at her home Thursday afternoon, honoring Miss Elizabeth James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James, who is soon to become the bride of Lawrence Bryce of Detroit. The affair became a linen shower for the bride-to-be, who received many beautiful tokens of friendship from the guests. The Ives home was prettily decorated in the Valentine motif, the tasty refreshments harmonizing. At bridge first honors went to Mrs. Tess Hipple, second to Mrs. William James and third to Mrs. David James.

Miss Drew Will Address Phidians

Miss Helen Drew, professor of English of Rockford College, will address the Phidian Art Club at its meeting at the home of Mrs. W. A. McNichols, 403 E. Everett St., at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon. Her subject will be "19th Century Writers and the Rock River Valley," to which she has devoted intensive research. Much of her material was obtained in Dixon and community and concerns this vicinity.

REV. FR. BURKE WILL ADDRESS WOMEN VOTERS

Rev. Fr. B. Norman Burke, of St. Luke's Episcopal church will address the League of Women Voters on "Munitions" at their meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd Eno, 321 E. McKinney street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Each member of the league is privileged to have a guest at this meeting.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS NO BETTER THAN ITS MEMBERS

If you have innocently wondered why the League of Nations was quite unable to do anything in the least effective along the line of slowing up Japan's seizure in territory in Manchuria, you might profitably read the current cable dispatches about Italy's dispute with Abyssinia.

Just what has been happening in those sun-smitten outposts along the Ethiopian border is not at all clear—won't be clear, probably, until the smoke clears away and a good many young men of both races have died.

But it is evident that the excellent old game of imperialism is being played anew, and the wind-up will probably see a new sector of Africa experiencing the joys of European rule.

Two or three things are rather significant.

One is the fact that Abyssinia appealed to the League of Nations to settle the dispute, and that Italy refused to permit it. Another is that France, according to a recent cable, "has agreed tacitly to give Italy a free hand in dealing with Abyssinia, even to taking over most of the country."

In other words, Italy is behaving toward Abyssinia with Europe's general consent—in much the same way that Japan behaved toward China; and this need not imply a criticism of either nation, because that is the way strong nations almost invariably behave toward weak ones.

Our own nation got possession of California and the other southwestern states in much the same way, incidentally.

Now the thing to bear in mind in this connection is simply the fact that a stream can rise no higher than its source. An international organization cannot impose on any nation a rule of conduct which all its member nations are not ready to accept for themselves.

The league, to be brief, could not keep Japan from taking what it wanted in the Orient because the leading members of the league have done the same sort of thing themselves and are prepared to do it again if they see fit.

The plain fact, then, is that no international league can keep the peace until the nations which compose it are ready to turn over a new leaf, individually, in their own dealings with other nations.

The Italian squabble with Abyssinia is clear proof that we have not yet reached that point. It explains why the league was impotent when Japan raided Manchuria.

PRODUCTION GOES UP

Underneath all the much-discussed subdivision of the recovery program, there seems to be a slow but definite tide which is moving toward prosperity.

Thus the U. S. Chamber of Commerce reports that industrial production at the end of 1934 was 25 percent above the low point of 1932, and that 1,300,000 more wage earners were on the payrolls of manufacturing plants than was the case two years ago.

The normal seasonal recession to be expected in January did not appear, coal was moving by rail at a greater volume than in any January since 1931, and the use of electric power was steadily climbing.

Whether our recovery is coming because of or in spite of the administration's efforts may still be a moot point. The important fact is that it does, definitely, seem to be under way.

STORMS RAGING ON THE SUN

If those scientists who see a direct connection between sunspots and earthly climatic conditions are correct we may well be in for a period of very disturbed and unusual weather.

German astronomers report a sudden and surprising development of new sunspots—the largest seen since 1917. One group of spots developed from nothing to an area ten times the size of the earth in 48 hours, swirling and rotating in a manner to suggest a "storm" of almost unimaginable violence on the sun's flaming surface.

What this may mean for earthly weather is something for the scientists to argue about—and for experience to show. For the ordinary reader, meanwhile, there is something exceedingly fascinating about the thought of these titanic disturbances—unimaginably vast cyclones in flaming gas—taking place far off in space, with a few astronomers at telescopes as the only spectators.

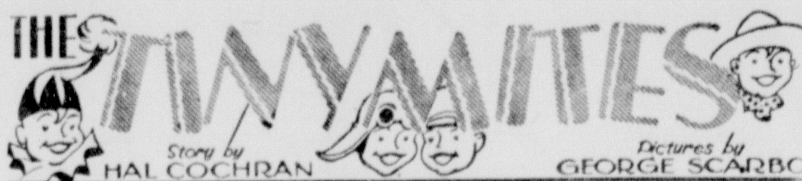

We are not aiming at a select and limited understanding, but at peace and well-being for all.—Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary.

What I saw during my brief spell of death has made me regret that I ever came back.—John Puckering, British gardener who was brought back to life.

The old gold standard, worked from London, is not test of what the new standard would be, worked from several centers.—Sir Josiah Stamp, British economist.

I believe that in future the flying of long distances belongs to the stratosphere.—Capt. James Mollison, famous flyer.

I prefer to take risks.—Premier Flandin of France.

"Well," said the farmer, "I guess, now, the oil men know exactly how I want things done around this place. They're moving right along. In days, to come they'll drill and drill and lots of oil drums they will fill. You Tinymites have worked enough. I guess you're none too strong!"

"Aw, sure we are," cried Scouty. "Gee, we're just as strong as we can be. We'll gladly help the men some more, if you think that we should."

Then Duncy snapped. "For goodness sakes, don't talk that way. What always makes you offer to help with the work? You never say what you should!"

This made the farmer smile. He said, "Wee Duncy rather play, in stead of helping with the oil work. Well, that's quite all right with me. In fact, I'd like to loaf, myself. Let's take my fishpots from the shelf and try and catch some fish. Then we can have a meal, you see." Of course this tickled everyone.

Cried Dotty, "Oh, that will be fun!" And then there was a scramble, as the fishpots were brought out. "Oh, look," yelled Windy. "They're bamboo, and every single one is new. They'll bring us luck and help us catch some real big fish, no doubt."

"Your luck will e'er depend on looks," the farmer said. "Here are some hooks and bobbers. Put them on the lines and see that they're tied tight."

"If they are loose, all I can say is that your fish will get away. We can't have that, because I want a big, long string by night."

Real shortly everything was set. One Tiny'd rushed away to get a can of bait. "I'll take it," said the farmer. "Follow me!" "We'll soon be tempting lots of fish and, frankly, if I get my wish, somebody's going to catch the biggest fish that's in the sea."

Duncy gets into trouble in the next story.

Morris, who was assisted as hostess by her sister Mrs. Walter Haney.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

ON COMING ELECTION

One of the most gratifying things of the coming election is the interest shown by the citizens in the many projects, proposals and propositions of local government discussed. It seems like a revived interest in local affairs, and that is as it should be. Because your elective officials are governed in a measure by what the people want, and if no interest is taken by the citizens who pay the bills and no effort is made to get out and vote, it tends to defeat the purpose for which it was created and serve those individuals who seek self-promotion to use it to their own advantage.

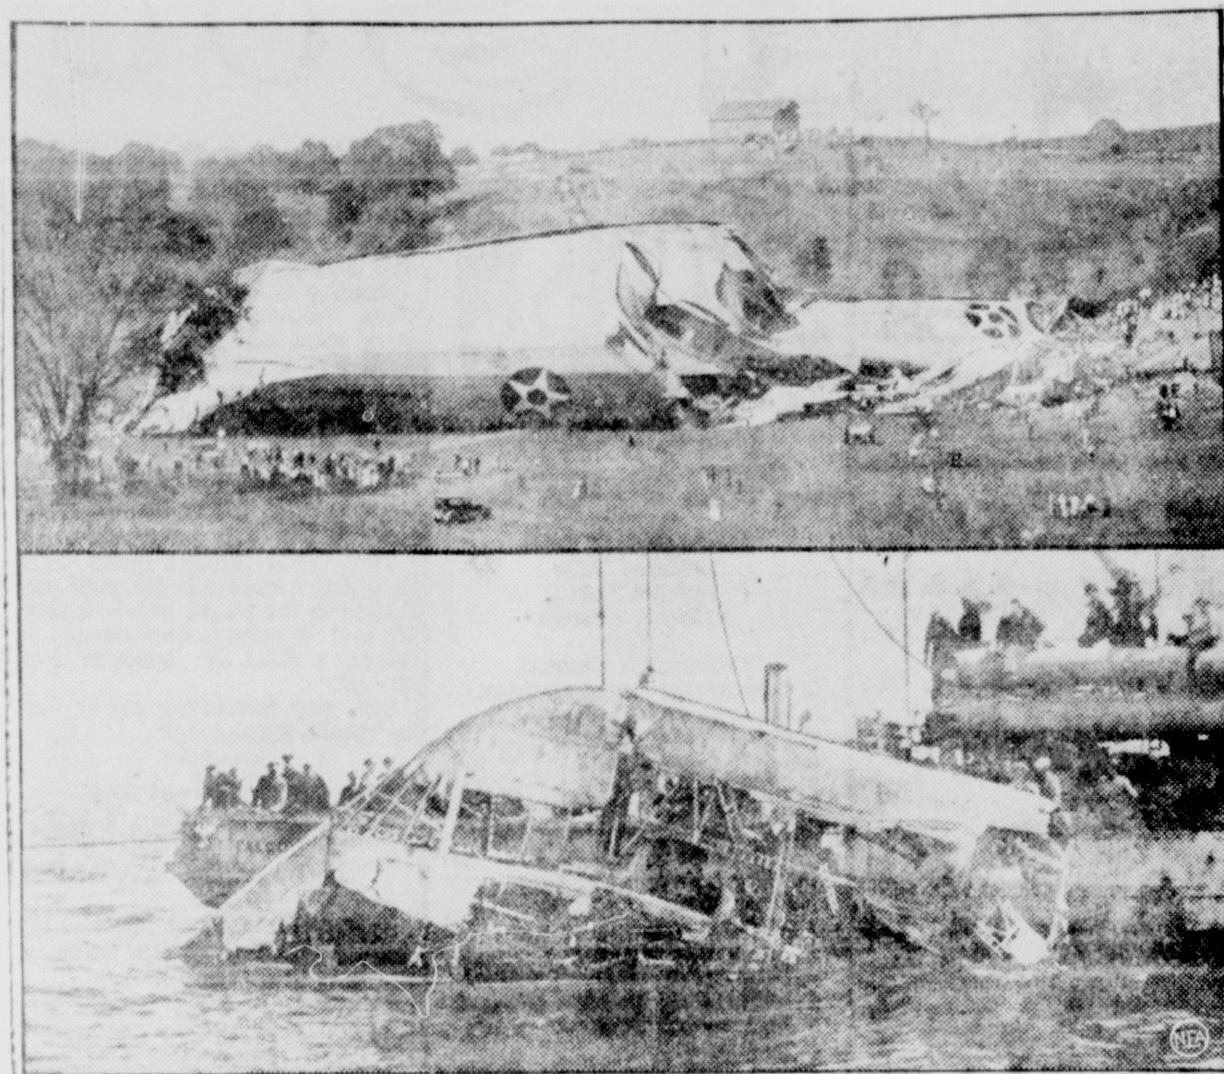

So we defined our position on the water purchase, gave a respectful reply to the tax payer, the liquor ordinance is a bone of contention among the licensee, the unrestrained bootlegger is cutting in on his business, but his biggest problem is no business, that is a discussion by itself. The street lighting and re-surfacing, sewerage system, the new swimming pool and what-not.

My position on public improvement is this: I am in favor of anything the people want, but where a public improvement puts more burdens upon a tax ridden citizen and where it would subject special assessment or directly raise taxes on deflated property, I would hesitate to sponsor such a proposition.

We have widows struggling to keep their children together and hold their homes, we have people advancing in years worrying how much longer they can hold the roof above their heads. The problem of necessities confronts most of us. Should we place more mortgages on the uncertain future? It's about time for sober reflection.

Mortgaging the future by installment buying has been one of the major causes of our economic upheaval of the past few years, and installment paying for public improvement has distressed a great many homes. The tendency on the part of public officials from Washington down to the smallest unit of government has been where public funds are dealt with to spend money like drunken sailors, just as if the depression was an idle dream, build things bigger and better has been the slogan while the mountain of debts gets wider and higher, dispossessing people of their homes, and making them more dependent and helpless. We want more than copper plates imbedded in concrete with a list of official names who promoted the project, we want the exercise of the old fashioned caution. Up to 1933, 1,126 public units in the U. S. defaulted on their land obligation. The Senate had a bill up for consideration last session to permit the thousands of distressed cities to go through bankruptcy, we have lost a few rights but we retain some.

Two Previous Disaster Victims

In a terrific storm that struck the giant U. S. dirigible Shenandoah over Ava, O., in 1925, the ship crashed, buckling in the tremendous gale and electric storm. Fifteen men lost their lives when the mammoth craft plunged to earth in a pasture, and was reduced to the wreckage shown in the top picture. Seventy-three of 76 of those aboard lost their lives when the U. S. navy dirigible Akron plunged into the sea off Barnegat Inlet light, N. J., April 4, 1933. One of the three who escaped alive in the disaster was Lieut. Comm. Herbert V. Wiley, skipper of the Macon when it crashed off the California coast. Part of the Akron wreckage is shown below being salvaged by navy rescue ships.

We can vote on the proposed sewerage system by filing a petition with the City Clerk signed by 15 per cent of the voters who voted for Mayor within ten days after the approval and adoption of the ordinance, and its fate rests with the voter. The law treats the combined ownership and operation of the water and sewerage system as an exception rather than the rule—it is not necessary to own the water system in order to obtain a government loan to build a sewerage system, statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

We lost a right when the amendment law of May 10, 1934 authorized cities under 500,000 to build and operate a water system without a referendum. The theory of the law being that re-lights of property are involved, that the bonds issued for the purchase must recite on their face that the city is not liable and that they are payable in principal and interest out of the water revenue. It permits through a technicality to do indirectly what it does not permit done directly. There is not much difference between a doubled water rate and a direct tax or assessment. The present rate is based on a $520,000 appraised value. Double the value and it follows as a natural consequence an increased water rate. The Commerce Commission, under private ownership, have jurisdiction over rates, if municipally owned the jurisdiction rests in local courts, where a holder of a bond could demand as a matter of right the increase in water rate to meet bond obligations. It is the same thing only a different way. In case the city is liable the right of referendum exists on a petition signed by 20 per cent of the voters filed within 21 days after the adoption and approval of the ordinance. For sewerage system 15 per cent of the voters within 10 days holds up the proceedings.

These and many other questions have been asked and discussed. Our interests are the same. Our city and peoples' welfare must come first, last and always.

CORN-HOG 1935 CONTRACTS TO BE RECEIVED

Meetings Will Be Held Starting Today

Monday, February 11th, a meeting of the officers and directors of the Lee County Corn-Hog Control Association who constitute the temporary 1935 committee was held at Amboy for receiving instructions preliminary to the starting of the 1935 sign-up. Mr. J. D. Billsborrow of the State University of Illinois conducted this meeting.

Beginning Friday, February 15th a series of meetings will be held, one in each township, for the purpose of signing 1935 Corn-Hog Adjustment Contracts. These sign-up meetings will be conducted by the teams assigned for that purpose. One team consisting of Leon A. Garrison, Justin Becker and J. E. Mau and the second team consisting of Dale D. Rosentrans, W. E. Taylor and Earl Nattress.

All Corn-Hog producers are eligible to sign 1935 contracts whether they signed 1934 contracts or not. A great many Corn-Hog producers signed applications during the series of educational meetings just held. These were men whose contracts will remain the same as in 1934 and who appear in Group I. All other producers in Group I will be given an opportunity to sign at the regular sign-up meetings as well as Group II and III.

Group II consists of producers desiring to sign-up but who will not operate exactly the same land as operated in 1934. Group II will consist of producers who desire to sign-up who did not sign a 1934 Corn-Hog Reduction Contract. The teams as listed above will be assisted by the Corn-Hog Director from their respective townships.

Old Contract Wanted
All producers attending these meetings are requested to bring their copy of their 1934 contract with them, if possible. Those producers to sign-up in 1935 who did not sign in 1934 are requested to bring evidence in the form of sales slips or trucker's receipts in order to establish their hog base. These sales slips and other evidence must cover hogs produced in 1932 and 1933 for all bases are established on the operation of those two years.

Each producer is requested to go to the meeting in his own township as certain records from the office will be on hand at the time of this sign-up.

Those producers having signed application for 1935 contracts during the educational meetings need not attend this series of sign-up meetings for their contracts are now being prepared and will be presented for signature at a later date.

Listed below the the places of sign-up meetings and the dates on which they will be held in these places:

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton—Rev. J. G. Eller, superintendent of the Freeport District of the Evangelical church and former pastor of the Ashton church, will hold his last quarterly conference in his official capacity at the Ashton-Reynolds and Scarboro churches this week-end. Rev. Eller's term as district superintendent will close at the time of the Illinois conference in the spring and the pastors are not returned to that position after one term in the same district. Rev. Eller will preach and hold the communion service at the local church at 10:30 Sunday morning following Sunday school at 9:30. Quarterly conference will be held at Ashton this Saturday evening at 7:30, at Reynolds this Thursday evening and at Scarboro Friday evening.

Sunday services at the Presbyterian church will be Sunday school at 9:30 A. M.; young people's meeting at 6:30 P. M., and evening church services at 7:00 o'clock. The New Era church will meet in the church parlors Thursday afternoon, February 14, at 2:30. The subject for the afternoon is the Countries of South America and Latin America and a very interesting program has been prepared. Refreshments will be served and a free will offering taken. Bible study Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Frederick Fox, for 27 years a resident of Ashton, died at his home in Rockford at 3 P. M. Tuesday after an illness of six months, the effects of which caused a stroke last Monday evening from which he passed away.

Mr. Fox, who attained the age of 78 years, three months and nine days, was born in Germany where he spent the first 24 years of his life. He was married at the age of 22 years and two years later sailed for America leaving his wife and two children in Germany until a year later when they joined him here.

The deceased is survived by his bereaved wife, three sons and five daughters, one daughter and one son having preceded him in death. The children living are: Mrs. John Dahlin, Mrs. Albert Thomas, Mrs. George Seaworth, Mrs. William Meyers, Christ and Henry Fox, all of Rockford, and William Fox and Mrs. Adam Schinzer of Ashton. Also one sister, Mrs. Gertrude Kliebe of Rockford, and one brother in Germany; 13 grand children and six great-grandchildren survive. Funeral services were conducted on Friday at the Ashton Lutheran church, Rev. F. W. Henke officiating, interment being made in Ashton cemetery.

Mrs. John Stadeler very delightfully entertained the members of the King's Herald band of the Methodist church at her home on Friday afternoon. Following the study hour games and delicious refreshments in keeping with the Valentine season were enjoyed by the little folks.

Mr. Richard Sunday is visiting at the home of her sister in Rockford.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dean, son

Herman and daughters Phyllis and Helen of LaMoille were guests Sunday at the home of his brother, Editor Ralph J. Dean.

At St. John's Lutheran church Sunday morning just preceding the Sunday school hour at 9:30, the pastor, Rev. F. W. Henke, will show several pictures on Peter about whom the present Sunday school lesson centers. Divine worship in English will be at 10:30. Sermon subject: "Be of Good Cheer." Confirmation class will meet on Saturday at 1:30 P. M. On Tuesday, Feb. 19th, teachers' meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Jenkins.

The Methodist Sunday school will convene at 10 o'clock Sunday morning followed by the morning worship at 11 o'clock, and Epworth League at 6:16 P. M. Mid-week service is held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening followed by choir rehearsal at 8 o'clock.

The Queen Esther Circle of the Methodist church spent a delightful evening in Valentine season entertainment at the William T. Jenkins home Tuesday evening, the hostesses being Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Charles Vogeler and Mrs. Clarence Paddock. Following a brief business meeting Valentine games were enjoyed and some time spent in making Valentines and verses, a number of very attractive ones being produced. Delicious refreshments were served at small tables most attractively appointed in keeping with the season. About 25 members of the circle were present to enjoy the pleasant evening.

Henry Heinzerth passed away at the home of his son Allen, south of Ashton Tuesday morning, having reached the age of 71 years. He was born in Bradford township, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Heinzerth and lived south of Ashton until 1913 when he moved into town. The deceased is survived by two sons, Allen of near West Brooklyn, and Charles of Oregon; a daughter, Mary of Ashton; four brothers, Dr. E. H. Heinzerth of Turtle Lake, N. D.; Gus of Langdon, N. D.; John of Mendota, and William of Ashton; and a sister, Mrs. Robert Moore of Dixon. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Evangelical church, Rev. G. A. Walters, pastor of the Reynolds church officiating. Burial will be made in the Ashton cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hardesty of Washington Grove were very pleasantly surprised at their home Saturday evening when about 100 friends and neighbors assembled to spend several hours in visiting and music. The gathering was a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Hardesty who expect to move soon to the farm home of Mrs. Hardesty's mother near Milledgeville. As a token of the esteem of their large number of friends in the community the guests of honor were presented with a purse of money by Rev. W. S. Sanford. Delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, cake and coffee were served at the close of the happy evening.

The members of the True Blue Sunday school class of the Evangelical Sunday school with their teacher, Mrs. Arthur Kersten, were very happily entertained at the Glen Kendell home Saturday afternoon, the daughters Arlisse and Lois being the hostesses. At the close of the regular business meeting, presided over by the president, Miss Evelyn Kersten, several games of a Valentine nature were enjoyed, followed by tempting refreshments, also in keeping with the Valentine season.

CUTTEN BARRED FROM TRADING FOR TWO YEARS

Found Guilty of Violations of Grain Futures Legislation

Washington, Feb. 15 —(AP)—Arthur W. Cutten, Chicago trader, has been prohibited by the Grain Futures Commission from trading on any grain market for a period of two years.

The commission found Cutten guilty of violating the grain futures act "by attempting to manipulate prices by concealing his transactions on the Chicago Board of Trade."

The decision was reached February 12 but was not announced by the commission—composed of Secretaries Wallace and Roper and Attorney General Cummings—until Cutten had been advised of the findings.

Split His Tradings
The commission found that Cutten had transacted his business in eight commission firms, split his trading into 35 accounts, and carried some of them in the names of relatives and associates for the purpose of concealment.

It also found that during 1930 he made no reports of his transactions, as required under the Grain Futures Act although he controlled in excess of 500,000 bushels of wheat on 130 days during the year.

WILL NOT FIGHT ORDER

Chicago, Feb. 15 —(AP)—Fellow traders on the Chicago Board of Trade quoted Arthur W. Cutten, reputedly the country's biggest market operator, as greeting news of his disbarment here with the remark: "I'm not going to do anything about it."

"What's the use of trading?" said Cutten. "The market doesn't move."

The Chicago trader laid the basis for an appeal to the courts when his grain operations were under investigation here last year. At that time his attorneys said he would fight a disbarment order to the Supreme Court, believing that the

Mrs. Harold Stevens, received grand championship in the poultry division of the vocational agricultural corn and poultry show held at Leaf River. Richard won $7.75 in cash prizes, taking first place in pullets, first place in cockerels, fourth place in pullets, second place in pen, second place in eggs and ninth on potatoes. Other winners were Lewis Champlain who received $4.50 for second in pullet, second in cockerel and third in pen, and Burnell Vogel who won $1.00 on his entries in oats and potatoes.

The Ashton high school basketball heavyweights defeated Lee Center last Friday evening by a score of 12 to 8. The high score man of each team were Donald Sachs of Ashton with 6 points and C. Hanaman of Lee Center with 4 points. Ashton's light weights defeated Lee Center's lights by a score of 13 to 11 in three overtime periods the same evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wisman entertained the Misses Doris Ogle and Orville Olson of Rochelle at their home on Sunday.

Grain Futures Act, used against him, was unconstitutional.

Trades in Winnipeg
The ruling means that Cutten may not trade in his favorite market, the Chicago Board of Trade, as a member. To trade through a broker would cost him the usual commissions paid by outsiders an eighth of a cent a bushel.

A members of the Winnipeg exchange, Cutten has been reported active there. The belief on the Chicago Board is that he has not been operating, at least extensively, in Chicago.

JAIL PENALTIES OF NRA WILL GO BY BOARD SOON

New Bill Reported to Discard Such Punitive Measures

Washington, Feb. 15 —(AP)—The jail penalties of the National Industrial Recovery Act would go into the discard under the terms of a bill reported to have been drawn by President Roosevelt's advisers.

This charge, an authoritative source said today, is one of several alterations in the NIRA now contemplated by the administration.

The present NIRA, due to expire in June, provides heavy jail penalties for violators, but this power has not been used extensively. It often has been criticized as unenforceable.

Fines would be retained in the new bill.

The newest draft of the NIRA proposed for the future, it was said today, seeks to strike a medium between permanent and temporary legislation. The bill would extend the Recovery Act, with alterations, for two more years but it also contains a provision permitting the law to become permanent unless congress decides to alter it at the end of the two year period.

An attempt has been made, it was said today, to clarify the anti-trust provisions through a specific statement of what may or may not be done in the way of cooperation under codes. This is regarded as an attempt to meet criticisms that the NIRA has fostered monopoly.

Among privileges now allowed prisoners in certain British prisons are weekly dancing classes, animal pets, fitted gymnasiums, educational talks by radio, and classes in shorthand and foreign languages.

FORMER CAPONE MOBSTERS HELD IN MALOY CASE

Chicago Prosecutor Intimates Developments Soon

Chicago, Feb. 15—(AP)—Seven men, said by police to be the remnants of the once-powerful Capone gang, are being questioned in the shotgun slaying of Thomas E. Maloy, late czar of the Chicago movie operators union.

Sam Hunt, the "golf-bag gangster," and Claude Maddox, once held as a suspect in the St. Valentine's Day massacre, six years ago, today were among those seized by squads of police last night.

"We may have something startling in the next few days," said Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty refusing to comment further on the arrests.

Others in Custody
Others held were: Ralph Pierce, 30, Mike Spranz, 33, Nick Trimarco, 38, Laf Kane 29 and John Russo, 41.

Police Captain Daniel Gilbert said it was reported that the Capone syndicate had been attempting to "muscle in" on the movie union, left leaderless by Maloy's slaying.

Varied motives for the union figures' assassination, executed in typical gangland fashion, were advanced by investigators including fear of underworld characters that he had "talked" to gain leniency in income tax prosecution.

The names of Hunt and Maddox have figured often in recent years in accounts of gangland's activities, and the others were said by police to be minor figures in gambling and other activities.

Opera May Cease Performances If Help Is Withheld

New York, Feb. 15—(AP)—The Metropolitan Opera Company, beset by financial trouble for the last two years, may not open its doors next winter unless substantial help comes from an unexpected quarter.

Friends of the opera were busy today trying to devise ways and means, following the report of the board of directors that "it is not feasible to give opera at the Metropolitan Opera House next season on the basis of continuing to incur the large deficits of the last five seasons."

During the last two years the deficits have been about $300,000 annually.

DAILY HEALTH

THE USE OF SNAKE VENOM

For some deep and mysterious reason (upon the nature of which certain of our schools of psychiatry love to dilate), the snake has long been associated with the art of healing. It is part of the symbol of the caduceus, the emblem of Mercury, and the mythical signature of the healing art.

In modern times snake venom has been experimentally tried as a method of treatment for a variety of illnesses, including epilepsy. Most of these therapeutic applications of snake venom have been fruitless, though reports on the alleged value of snake venom in the treatment of epilepsy and kindred conditions (insanity) crop up from time to time.

In the light of this, it is rather encouraging to find a substantiated report proving that there may really be some medicinal value in snake venom. This value lies in its blood coagulating or hemostatic powers.

As long as 1893 it was observed that the venom of certain snakes can cause the clotting of blood within blood vessels. Later it was shown that certain venoms can even clot blood which had been treated by an ant clotting compound. Since there are certain conditions in which it is desirable to clot blood promptly, as, for example, in the case of those suffering from hemophilia (free bleeding), the use of snake venom in such cases naturally suggested itself.

And so indeed a series of such experiments were recently made. The venom of an Indian snake was used in the case of one hemophilia sufferer, whose blood was clotting by the venom in 17 seconds, whereas it took 35 minutes for it to clot spontaneously.

Similar application of snake venom was made in 20 other cases of excessive or hemophilic bleeding following the extraction of teeth, tonsillectomies, and abdominal operations. In each of these instances the snake venom proved useful in stopping and controlling hemorrhage, and no untoward results followed from its use.

Belleville's "Blue Law" Held Invalid

Belleville, Ill. Feb. 15—(AP)—The city ordinance against the sale of meats and bread on Sunday has been declared unconstitutional.

Police Magistrate Anthony J. Stoeckel this week held the ordinance was class legislation and dismissed charges against Fred J. Niemeyer, grocer. The city will appeal the decision.

The tiger shark is the most dangerous of all sharks. It will, unhesitatingly, attack a swimmer and even a canoe. It has no trouble in swallowing a man, since it has a large mouth and throat.

The other girls discussed Katie's romance, but Gale had little to say. She wasn't looking well. Her father noticed this and asked anxiously if she was eating enough. Gale said she was, though it was true she had little appetite. She had trouble going to sleep nights and, when she did, slept restlessly, tormented by dreams.

Miss Groves figured in these dreams frequently and so did Leota Boller. One night Gale thought that she was in a forest and had lost her way. It was growing darker every moment and she was becoming frightened. All at once she heard a fearful growling. She began to run, not knowing where she was going, but deeper and deeper into the woods. The growling continued and seemed to draw nearer. Gale looked back and saw a lion, running with its mouth open, its cruel teeth glittering. She ran faster and faster and all at once the trees disappeared and she was on a high cliff. She kept on running, the lion following closer. It was so close now that she could hear its breathing. She reached the edge of the cliff and looking down, saw water churning against the rocks below. She turned and suddenly the lion was Miss Groves. Miss Groves was wearing her blue dress with white at her throat and about the wrists and she had a rose in her hair. She came forward, smiling, and said, "I love young people, my dear. And you are young. Beautifully young! That's why I'm going to push you over this cliff. That's why."

I. N. U. Beats Amboy, 21-15 Hospital Yellow Jackets Down Patients by 36-15

Ashton Fails To Appear Thursday Evening

Instead of the scheduled Ashton-State Hospital contest, Thursday night, the I. N. U. quint met Amboy and the State Hospital Yellow-jackets played the Redbirds, champion of the Patients league on the State Hospital court. The I. N. U. and Yellowjackets turned in victories by 21-15 and 36-15 scores respectively. Ashton failed to appear. In the I. N. U.-Amboy contest, the Commercial league five slid into a 4 to 0 advantage in the opening period and kept the Amboy outfit scoreless the entire frame. In the second period, the Legionnaires began to whittle the I. N. U. margin down largely through the work of Tourtillot, and Bybee each of whom counted a bucket. The count was 8 to 6 in favor of the Utilities team as the half ended. The slippery condition of the State Hospital floor hindered both clubs particularly the Amboy outfit which is used to a fast-breaking offense. The floor practically nullified this style of play.

Amboy Has Class
Amboy showed power in the third stanza. They outscored the I. N. U. 7 to 3 and forged into the lead for the first time on Reinboth's first basket of the evening. He had already tallied three gift shots, and his basket gave the villagers an 11 to 10 margin. They increased it to 13-11 while limiting the Red and White men to a free chance and a bucket both of which were converted by Hasselberg.

The fourth period spelled doom for the Amboy quint when the I. N. U. suddenly clicked, and every player counted a point or two. Meeker's two pointer gave the Legionnaires their only goal of the final stanza.

YELLOWJACKETS WIN
Led by their pace-setting Windy Windmiller, who sank twelve points on six goals, the Dixon State Hospital Yellowjackets enjoyed a warm up contest against the Redbirds, league-leading quint of the Patients' league whom they drubbed 36-15.

Ashton had been originally booked for the game but foggy and rainy weather is believed to have prevented their appearance. The contest was to have been a non-Commercial hoop encounter and would have had no bearing on the standings.

Have Little Difficulty
Against the Patients, the Staters had little difficulty. They smashed into a 12 to 0 first quarter lead, increased it to 22-4 at half time. Although held pointless in the third frame while the Redbirds chalked up seven, the Employees burst loose again in the last period with 16 more scores.

The best efforts of the Patients came in the third period, when the Yellowjacket substitutes were increasing their season's averages at the Redbirds expense. The Birds have not lost a game in the Patients league, but they proved no match for the Staters. Nevertheless, they clung to their task and fought hard to the final whistle.

Rochelle Seeks New Laurels in DeKalb Contest

DeKalb awaits nervously the arrival of Rochelle's invading horde tonight in the Barb gymnasium. The Barbs have good reason for fright at the mention of Rochelle. The tagline which has already handed an unwelcome loss to DeKalb this season, and holds the distinction of being the only N. C. I. team to accomplish the feat. DeKalb will be further handicapped by the loss of Lauri Koski who is troubled with a sinus infection, but he may be used if Rochelle makes things difficult for the Barbs during the game. Snappy practices this week convinced Coach Drew that his lanky five would be in as good shape as it ever will be for the game.

DISTRIBUTION OF PHEASANTS HERE COMPLETE

State Dept. of Conservation Releases Birds for Propagation

State Conservation Inspector Charles Duis of this city has completed the distribution of a number of ring neck and Mitan black pheasants throughout Lee county, the birds having come in crates by truck from the state propagation farm at Yorkville. The distribution centered largely in townships along Green river where the birds will be protected by natural cover. The birds were released in pairs in Sublette, Brooklyn, Amboy, Harmon, Hamilton, May, East Grove, Marion, China and Viola townships. Several land owners and sportsmen had made application for pheasants to the state department of conservation at Springfield and the entire shipment was released on the property of these applicants. It was necessary to describe the land and the natural coverage afforded before the applications were favorably acted upon and the birds were released only on land where they will find protection and forage, suited for their propagation. This is by far the largest consignment of grown pheasants that has ever been assigned to Lee county.

For the first few weeks, Conservation Inspector Duis will deliver feed to the locations where the birds were released. This feed is being donated by several elevators throughout the county and will be furnished until the ice and snow have cleared from the ground sufficiently to permit the birds foraging for themselves. None of the pheasants were released in the vicinity of Dixon due to the lack of natural coverage necessary for their protection. Owners of the lands on which the game birds were placed will carefully guard against their being destroyed.

Inspector Duis after conducting a county wide survey, stated today that there are several large flocks of prairie chickens throughout the county, the number being the largest in several years. By feeding during the severe months, hundreds of coveys of quail have been preserved, thus making the general outlook from the sportsmen's viewpoint, most encouraging for the return of wild birds in the county.

STENGEL SIGNED BY DODGERS FOR NEW CONTRACT

Represents Slight Increase Over $10,000

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers of the National Baseball League have signed Casey Stengel to a new three-year managerial contract running through 1937 after cancelling a previous agreement which still had a year to run.

It was said the new contract called for a substantial increase in his salary. Stengel's previous agreement, signed last spring for a two-year term, was said to call for $10,000 a year. No intimation was given as to the terms of the new three-year contract, beyond the fact that it was an increase.

The new contract was offered voluntarily by the Dodgers, President Stephen W. McKever said, and was in recognition of Stengel's work last year and in the belief that Casey could build the club into a winner within three years.

Stengel, then a coach, was called in as successor to Max Carey, who had managed the Dodgers for two years and whose contract still had a year to run when he was summarily removed.

PREADVENTURE TO BE RIDDEN BY ACE JOCKEY

Catawba Entries Are Favored In Derby

Los Angeles, Feb. 15 (AP)—Silvio Coucel, star jockey of the Green tree Stables, was due here today to ride Preadventure. Mrs. Payne Whitney's 3-year-old in the $30,000 derby tomorrow.

Sound Advice and Polar Flight, Catawba Stable entries were expected to be the favorites for the event, the result of which was expected to have much effect on the Kentucky Derby future book since the top thoroughbreds here have been nominated for the annual classic in May.

Both Sound Advice and Polar Flight have shown to good form here, but at least half a dozen others have better than an outside chance. Along with Preadventure will be Gillie as the Greentree entry. C. V. Whitney has Rough Diamond. Pitter Pat will carry the colors of the Belair stud, Bluebeard owned by W. R. Coe, also is liked.

Most of the derby starters worked yesterday. Gillie breezed six furlongs in 1:14 3-5. Preadventure went the mile in 1:42 while Bluebeard took the same distance in 1:43 and Rough Diamond was clocked in 1:48.

BOXING SHOW TO DRAW BIG CROWD CHICAGO ARENA

Every Division Is Represented on the Card

Chicago, Feb. 15 (AP)—A boxing medley or variety show, with 20 assorted glove-throwers in the cast, will be presented by Jim Mullen and Nate Lewis tonight at the Chicago Stadium.

Messrs Mullen and Lewis will offer the score of battles, flushed from here and there over the country, in the form of ten bouts of six rounds each. Such of them as produce satisfactory samples tonight will be invited back for more important and better paying bouts. Every division except the lightweight, bantamweight and flyweight, is represented in the big roundup.

Starting at the top and working down the scale, there will be three heavyweight skirmishes, two each among the middleweights, welters and lightweights, and one between 126-pounders.

Eddie Hogan, a young heavy of Waterbury, Conn., collides with John Paeck, former Chicago amateur star and Dutch Weimer of Tucson, Ariz., owner of victories over John Henry Lewis and Babe Hunt, tackles Johnny Voree, a staminate of Joe Louis, sensational Detroit Negro heavyweight Roy Lazar of New York and Joe Jordan of Nashville, Tenn., are the other large boys involved.

Barth Faces Zale
Carmen Barth of Cleveland, the former Olympic champion, who has punched his way through 34 professional opponents, and Tony Zale, a blasting hitter from Gary, Ind., meet in one middleweight battle, with Chuck Heffner, Denver veteran and Bobby Matthews of Paducah, Ky., paired off in the other.

Mike "Kid" Fratini of Italy and New York, and Bill Miller of Milwaukee are expected to furnish one of the liveliest bouts of the evening. Nestor Bruggeman of Chicago and Ronny Malcolm of Waterloo, Ia., meet in the second 147-pound encounter.

The lightweights are paired up with Eddie Carroll of Ottawa, Ont. and Geno Salvatore, of LaSalle, Ill. in one number, and Freddy Chynoweth of Milwaukee and Joe Vignale of New York in the other.

Mike Bellosie, a main-event featherweight in New York, and Paul Lee, a promising Indianapolis youngster, round out the program.

SIR MALCOLM'S AUTO FALTERS ON TEST RUN

Campbell Will Try Beach Condition Again Today

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP)—Both Sir Malcolm Campbell and his mighty Bluebird were ready for another test run up and down the sands today, and it was just a question of whether the beach would work into shape.

The British sportsman—holder of the present world record for land speed at 272.108 miles an hour—gave his powerful car its initial try out yesterday. It made two false starts and then sped down the beach at something under 200 miles an hour.

Campbell did not try for a new record—he will shoot at the 300 miles an hour, five miles a minute, mark within a few days or a week. He merely wanted to test the Bluebird since its rebuilding and complete redesigning.

Apparently he learned what he wanted to know. The clutch slipped the tachometer broke, a brake band burned and the instrument board went haywire.

CARDS, TIGERS ENJOYING FEW HOLDOUT ILLS

Tigers Boast No Holdouts For Year of 1935

New York, Feb. 15 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and Detroit Tigers are making a shambles of the baseball legend that says pennant-winning clubs automatically contract salary troubles the following year.

The Cardinals, it is true, may have some little difficulty getting either Joe (Ducky-Wucky) Medwick or Pat Malone to sign but their major head-ache, Jerome H. "Dizzy" Dean is safely in the fold. Paul Dean hasn't signed, officially but he has no differences with the Cardinal front-office they don't seem to be of major calibre.

As for the Tigers, beaten by the Cards in the World series, they seem to have not even one full-fledged holdout.

Schoolboy Rowe has indicated his contract is not precisely what he expected but hastened to add that he expected to adjust his differences without much trouble.

Others Not So Lucky
If the Cardinals and Tigers have escaped fairly well from contract trouble, some of the other major league outfits have not been so lucky. Lou Gehrig, no longer overshadowed by the bulky figure of the inimitable Babe Ruth, has indicated he will not sign at the figure the Yankees have offered.

Baseball shapers guess the Yanks will have to lift the ante from $23,000 to around $30,000 before Iron-horn Lou will affix his signature to a contract.

The Cubs have yet to appease Chuck Klein, Billy Herman, Woody English, Larry French, Bill Lee and Frank Demaree and the Giants so far have failed to snare the contracts of Lefty O'Doul, Dick Bartell, Joe Moore, Harry Danning, Hank Luby or Phil Weintraub. O'Doul, of course, probably won't sign a contract with the Giants anyhow. Lefty wants to get a job as manager of the San Francisco Seals. The Giants are willing to let him go to the Seals at a "nominal price." That's the hitch for O'Doul wants his outright release so he can collect as a bonus the sum the Giants are asking for his services.

Dodgers Offer Van Contract
The Brooklyn Dodgers are understood to have offered a new contract to Van Mungo, great right-hander, but so far Van hasn't come into the fold. Neither have Joe Stripp, Len Koenecke or Sam Leslie.

Chick Hovey, Ernie (Schnozola) Lombardi and Harland Pool, the young outfielder, so far have resisted all overtures from the Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates still are looking for signed contracts from Gus Suhr and Waite Hoyt. The White Sox, it appears, have made no appreciable progress in their dealings with Zeke Bonura.

The Dodgers may be having trouble with some of their players but they had no difficulty getting Manager Casey Stengel to agree to a new three-year contract yesterday. Casey was supposed to have been getting $10,000 last year. The new contract, the best guessers say, ranges between $12,000 and $15,000.

ATHLETICS MAY BE DARK HORSE OF FLAG CHASE

Hornsby Predicts a Good Year for Browns Too

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 15 (AP)—Manager Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Browns believes the young squad of hustling baseball players which the veteran Connie Mack calls his Athletics may be the "dark horse" of the American League pennant race.

If Connie Mack gets the pitching and in Jimmie Fox comes through as a catcher, the Athletics will be a real threat," said the Rajah as he took up his duties as the chief instructor of the Doan Baseball school opening today.

Hornsby, who will guide a comparatively youthful squad into the race for the flag now adorning the Tiger lair, makes no prediction as to the outcome of the American League race.

He admits, however, he hopes to see the Browns safely entrenched in the first division at the close of the season. His club finished fifth last year just ahead of the Washington Senators, pre-season favorites.

"That's why I never predict how a pennant race will come out," declared Hornsby. "Washington got all the tough breaks last year and Detroit got all the good ones. You know how they finished. It is impossible to say how the breaks are going and therefore impossible to predict the winner."

Detroit, New York and Cleveland will be in the thick of the fight, he said, with Philadelphia and the Browns possibly causing them much trouble.

FOOTBALL RULES TO GET ANNUAL EXAMINATION

Football Rules Body To Study Changes Proposed, 1935

New York, Feb. 15 (AP)—The annual overhauling of the football rules begins today at the Seaview Country club in Ahscon, N. J.

For the next three days, the national football rules committee will study the playing code and changes suggested in it. On Monday the committee through its veteran secretary, W. S. Langford, will make public what changes, if any, have been decided on.

The discussions will center largely on three changes suggested by the associations of officials and coaches whose representatives sit with the committee in an advisory capacity.

The officials have proposed that the goal posts be returned to the goal line and that forward passing be permitted at any point behind the line of scrimmage instead of a minimum of five yards. The coaches want a clearer explanation of when a ball carriers forward progress has been stopped, particularly as it affects lateral-passing.

Majority Favor Present Rules
In advance of the discussions, it appeared as though a majority of the committee was in favor of letting the rules stand as they are on the ground that they have succeeded in opening up the game without sacrificing the safety of the players.

Members of the rules committee in addition to Langford and chairman Walter R. Oakeson are Amos Alonzo Stagg of College of Pacific; W. J. Bingham, Harvard; Dana G. Bible, Nebraska; H. J. Siegemann, Georgia; F. H. Yost, Michigan; Ray Morrison, Vanderbilt; W. G. Hunter, Southern California; W. G. Crowell, Philadelphia; and L. Mahoney, Rocky Mountain conference.

Lois Little, Columbia; Noble Kizer, Purdue; O. E. (Babe) Hollingberry, Washington State, and Morley Jennings, Baylor, represent the coaches, and A. B. Maginnis, S. S. Scott and Al Parrier, all of New York, the officials.

WEST VIRGINIA COACH DEFENDS BOXING SPORT

Says It Is Not Too Strenuous For Collegians

Morgantown, W. Va., Feb. 15 (AP)—Someone will have to put up better arguments than yet advanced to convince Eddie Vachresse, West Virginia's boxing coach, that mitt slinging is bad for college athletes.

The high-strung Eddie, whose team for two years have held the eastern intercollegiate boxing conference title, vigorously asserted today that in six years of boxing at the university "not a single serious accident has occurred."

Duquesne University this week dropped boxing from its program because of coaching deficiencies but officials said they had intended to quit the game at the end of the year anyhow because the sport is too strenuous for collegians.

Vachresse quickly came to the defense of his sport with the statement: "That boxing is more strenuous than football can not be supported by the facts; the injury charts per student participating over the years will show that."

This is true not only in the Mountaineers' stronghold but in every college where boxing is properly supervised and conducted," said Vachresse. And besides, he added, the boxers are leading other athletes in scholastic standing.

Several have made Phi Beta Kappa, the highest honor any student can achieve academically," was Eddie's final pronouncement.

Peas placed in boiling water for eight minutes and then frozen in water will keep indefinitely without losing their flavor when cooked.

Several sports receive subsidies from the French government. The highest sum is about $11,400, given to encourage rifle-shooting, and the lowest, $80, is for baseball.

Pirates Nearly Ready to Start 1935 Ball Year

Pittsburgh, Feb. 15 (AP)—There are only three spots still to be holystoned on the Pirates' deck before the schooner sets sail.

And Skipper Bill Benswanger looks for them to be cleared up without much ado.

With the receipt of Babe Herman's contract yesterday, the Pittsburgh Nationals have only to wait for the papers from Arky Vaughan, the man on first base, and Pitcher Red Lucas. Benswanger thinks they'll be here shortly.

The usual part of the Pirates' contract success is that the fellows everybody thought might spike the guys didn't do anything of the kind. The hot stove seers had figured Waite Hoyt, big Bill Swift, Jim Weaver, Guy Bush, all pitchers, and Herman, possibly, would be lagged about turning in their signatures. But they're all in.

FIRST REPORT ON RELIEF IS BEFORE SOLONS

Investigators To Submit Their Suggestions

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15 (AP)—The first of a series of reports on the financing and administration of unemployment relief is before the legislature, with two groups of investigators scheduled to submit their recommendations soon.

The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission notified the members of the General Assembly that it spent $12,819,666.32 in December, a new monthly record, in caring for fifteen per cent of the state's population, while the number of its employees was reduced to 9,265 at the end of the year.

As requested by recent resolution, the relief commission gave each legislator two volumes, one showing the growing cost of caring for the jobless and the other listing the employees on the December payroll. Meanwhile Governor Homer notified by Otto C. Doering of Chicago, chairman of a special commission to investigate long range relief problems, that his report probably would be ready in two or three weeks.

To Recommend Policy
Doering's job is to recommend a permanent relief policy.

Senator Louis O. Williams of Clinton said the report of his legislative commission, which investigated the work of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, probably will be submitted next week.

The IERC report showed that in December 1,141,493 persons or 306,829 resident families were on relief, receiving an average of $33.47 per family during the month.

In December the number of the commission's employees dropped from 9,501 to 9,265, and the total payroll decreased from $878,495.38 to $816,860.17. Of the expenditures, 85.6 per cent went to direct relief, 24.8 to work relief and 9.6 to administration.

Next Tuesday the members and officers of the relief commission will appear before a joint session of the legislature and Governor Homer will confer with the two executive committees about future financing.

Special Committee of Congressmen Makes Lengthy Report

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15 (AP)—Marriage and divorce, alimony and heart balm, separate maintenance and alienation of affections—laws on all these would be changed by bills now pending before the Illinois General Assembly.

Senator Richey V. Graham of Chicago, who succeeded at the last regular session in amending the law so that a husband, as well as a wife, can collect alimony, has introduced a measure which would permit men to sue for separate maintenance.

Rep. J. M. Turner of Marshall would abolish alienation of affections as a cause of action while Rep. Elmer Schnackenberg of Chicago is seeking to change the old common law rule prohibiting husband or wife from testifying against each other.

To Bar "Gin Weddings"
Graham is also sponsoring a bill to eliminate "gin weddings" by requiring a couple to file a three-day notice of intention to wed before a marriage license can be issued.

Three days, however, is not sufficient in the opinion of Rep. Frank G. Ring of Harvey who has introduced a bill to amend the law to its employees was made in the house yesterday.

Rep. Richard Lyons, Libertyville Republican, declared the commission had not complied with that provision which asked for the addresses of employees for a period of five years prior to their employment.

Lyons said many representatives had complained to him against the failure of the commission to include this information in its report yesterday.

This, Lyons said, may be the case at the present time but, he said, many of the commission's employees were from out of the state and were not legal residents of Illinois at the time of their employment.

Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the commission, had previously informed Lott Holman O'Neil, whose resolution asking the information was the one concerned, that the commission did not possess the information about addresses at the time of employment but would submit it as soon as available.

Lyons said many legislators, after having examined the lists of employees submitted, claimed that many of the employees shown in their counties were not resident therein.
